

Graham Sharp

1955 - 2014

Graham, who died suddenly in September 2014, was one of the technical staff in the Electron Microscopy Facility. He was a highly valued and skilled colleague and friend to many of us in the Department and a great many students and post-docs were trained by Graham over the years. Away from work, Graham was a very private man but he enjoyed building and flying model aircraft and took great pleasure in walking in the British countryside. He will be greatly missed by us all.
